

Safe Me, Protected Us

Save the Children
strives to be an agency that safeguards children.

We Welcome Your Participation in Our Programs !

You have the right to safety.

Save the Children is committed to helping you participate with confidence and in a safe environment.

The people who work with Save the Children are committed to acting as follows:

- Respecting you and listening to your opinions;
- Ensuring no one feels left out;
- Protecting you from injury or other harm;
- Avoiding one-on-one meetings, that others do not know about, in closed spaces (closed room, in a car, etc.);
- Before filming you, obtaining permission from you and your guardian; and
- Avoiding personal questions or topics that are unrelated to the relevant programs when contacting you via email or phone.
- In addition, the staff will ensure your safety while you participate in any of our programs.
